THE VISTA FROM THE VESTIBULE, LOOKING THROUGH TO THE STAIRCASE HALL
THE SCHOOL OF ORIENTAL STUDIES
LONDON INSTITUTION
FINSBURY CIRCUS, E.C.2.

INSTRUCTION IS GIVEN IN CHINESE
A KNOWLEDGE OF WHICH IS ESSENTIAL TO TRAVELLERS, MISSIONARIES, SPORTSMEN, MERCHANTS, CIVIL SERVANTS AND OTHERS.

Prospectuses may be obtained here.
Deposited on loan by University College, London. at the School of Oriental Studies.

University College, London: School of Oriental Studies.
Finsbury Circus, E.C.
Catalogue of the Morrison Collection of Chinese Books

馬禮遜藏書書目

Andrew C. West

SCHOOL OF ORIENTAL AND AFRICAN STUDIES UNIVERSITY OF LONDON
• 1938 (Sir Reginald Fleming Johnston (1874-1938) 16,000 volumes, Chinese, English, a few of Japanese and Sanskrit.
• Funds from Sino-British Fellow Trust to compile a list of his collection (Shelfmark: prefix: RJ)
• 1936 German Walter Simon ((1893-1981). He was Librarian of University of Berlin (1922-1935), and also a Sinologist. He was a visiting scholar, became Reader at the Far East Department. 1948 became 2nd Chair of Chinese
• He invented the Chinese classification scheme and reclassified the Chinese collection
For some critical remarks on this book, see H. J. Perry's article on Clan Division in Pacific Journal, April 1923, pp. 513 ff.

R. F. Johnston
March 14, 1922.
To Prof. Johnston from the Viceroyal Emperor 6th July 1916

CH'EN Shu. [tsū, Yüan-shu; mao, Tao-shan.]

An album of flower paintings. Signed all through Yüan-shu, with the seals "Ch'en Shu chih yin" and Tao-shan. No date. 2nd half of 17th century.

58.5.
In 1934 Reginald Fleming Johnston purchased the rugged island of Eilean Righ, part of the Portnahaven Estate, Kilmartin, West Argyllshire. He transformed the island in Loch C龍nish into a 'tiny piece of China, a pavilion-style house set amid acres of poppies modelled on a Chinese poppy garden was its centrepiece. (Author's Collection)
PROFESSOR W. SIMON.

PROFESSOR OF CHINESE.
HEAD OF THE DEPARTMENT OF THE FAR EAST.
PROFESSOR EVE D. EDWARDS.
PROFESSOR OF CHINESE.
HEAD OF THE DEPARTMENT OF THE FAR EAST.
ACTING HEAD OF THE PERCIVAL DAVID FOUNDATION.
Thank you very much!